Arthur L. Kellermann, MD, MPH,

Arthur L. Kellermann, MD, MPH is senior vice president for Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) Health Sciences and CEO of VCU Health System in Richmond, Virginia. Before joining VCU in 2020, Dr. Kellermann served as dean of "America's Medical School" – the F. Edward Hébert School of Medicine at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences (USU) in Bethesda, Maryland, which serves as the leadership academy for military health and the U.S. Public Health Service. Dr. Kellermann holds career achievement awards from two fields - injury control and emergency medicine. Elected to the National Academy of Medicine in 1999, he has served on National Academies committees addressing the prevention and control of violent behavior, the consequences of uninsurance, health promotion, biodefense, and the future of emergency care. From 2013 to 2016, he served on the NAM’s Governing Council. Dr. Kellermann is board-certified in internal medicine and emergency medicine, and a fellow of both the American College of Emergency Physicians and the American College of Physicians. He is a member of the faculty of VCU’s Department of Emergency Medicine and an Affiliate faculty member in VCU’s Department of Family Medicine and Population Health.

M. Norman Oliver, MD, MA,

Dr. Oliver is the State Health Commissioner at the Virginia Department of Health. Prior to this appointment, Dr. Oliver served as the Deputy Commissioner for Population Health for VDH. Before accepting the Deputy Commissioner position, Dr. Oliver was the Walter M. Seward Professor and Chair of the Department of Family Medicine at the University of Virginia School of Medicine. Dr. Oliver worked with others in the health department, other state agencies, and healthcare systems across the state to improve the health and well-being of all citizens of the Commonwealth. He is committed to a cross-agency, and multi-sector approach to implementing population health initiatives.

Gonzalo Bearman, MD, MPH, FACP, FSHEA, FIDSA

Gonzalo Bearman is Chair of the Division of Infectious Diseases, Richard P. Wenzel Professor of Internal Medicine and Hospital Epidemiologist at the Virginia Commonwealth University Health System. He is a graduate of Colgate University (BA), SUNY at Buffalo School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences (MD) and Columbia University (MPH). He completed a residency in Internal Medicine and was Chief Resident, both at SUNY at Buffalo. He then completed a fellowship in Infectious Diseases and a residency in Preventive Medicine/Public Health, both at Cornell University. Dr. Bearman is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Infectious Diseases, and General Preventive Medicine and Public Health. Since 2003, Dr. Bearman is an attending physician on the Internal Medicine and Infectious Diseases Service at VCU Medical Center.
